

DAILY MILWAUKEE SENTINEL.

VOLUME XVII.

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, $1.50—Tri-Weekly, $4.—Weekly, $1.50
IN ADVANCE.

JERMAINE & BRIGHTMAN,
Publishers and Proprietors.

Y. D. JERMAINE, J. P. BRIGHTMAN,
FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1860

To Mail Subscribers, &c.
SIXTY EIGHT CENTS IN THE PRINTED AD-DRESS, POSTAGE PAID. For instance, 264,000, means postage on 264,000 copies. We will send postage stamps to any one who will order them. Let us know the number of copies you want, and we will send you postage stamps, or we may send you postage stamps and a paper to write on and we will send you postage stamps and a paper to write on.

Postage stamps and paper to write on are sent and paper to write on is sent accompanying the order.

JERMAINE & BRIGHTMAN.

To the Public.

The Manchester (England) Guardian, of February 18th, has the following account of extraordinary hoax at Warrington, Lancashire:

"On Saturday, a hoax of the most extraordinary and impudent kind was played off at Lancaster. A large wagon addressed to an unknown gentleman, and purporting to be from the Rectory, was sent to the Rectory, and was opened, and secured more than double the amount of postage.

For Telegraph, &c, see Fourth Page, &c.

The LETTER OF HORACE GREELEY.—The following letter, addressed by HORACE GREELEY to Seward Seward in 1854, is published in several of the New York papers and fully accounts for the opposition of the Tribe and Greeley to the nomination of Mr. Seward by the Chicago Convention. The letter, we regret to say, is utterly unworthy of such a man as HORACE GREELEY, and most damage "the philosopher" irre-trievably in the estimation of the American people.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5, 1854.
To the Hon. William H. Seward.

Sir—We are sorry to find that the firm of Seward, Wood & Greeley is from this day disbanded, by the withdrawal of the junior member of the firm.

We add, with regret, that the effect of my letter in your firm, in connection with the other members of the firm, and most especially with Mr. Wood, you made no effort to sustain you I only sent you one or two letters a week to support you in your efforts.

When you were Governor of this State,
with great patronage in your hands, no offer of my position to assist me was ever made.

When General Harrison was elected President you had no opportunity to do me any service in the State, and I received no compensation from your funds. When General Taylor was elected, you also had the principal disposition of the federal patronage, and in connection with Mr. Wood, you made no effort to sustain this party, a man who was never entitled to the confidence of the Whig party.

Instead of rewarding men who had faithfully served the Whig party, and you to such a man as Zebulon Baird Vance, the Nova Scotia, was appointed surety officer; William
V. Brady, postmaster; William H. Leroy,
new agent; Hiram Fuller, naval storekeeper; John C. Jones, postmaster, and a man who was appointed for United States
marshal, whom you know I cannot name.

And yet, while you had lost every dollar I possessed in starting the Galway line
of steamers, I had to bear the loss, and your offer was made me of assistance or place.

Subsequently, it was understood by my friends that I should be the candidate of our party for governor, and your cousin was given the nomination of treasurer, and your friends nominated that trim, little villain, Raymond, for lieutenant governor,
who was of no advantage to our party, and a man whom we know is to detect.

In all previous places I have labored in a place
you the citizens of the State have been divided between yourself and Wood.

I have now to say that any support you may hereafter receive from me will be because it is necessary for the party, but not from personal consideration.

HORACE GREELEY.

A NOBLE MATRON.—The "Diary of
the American Revolution," by FRANK
MOORE, gives the following relation concerning the period of the Revolution:

"A Noble Matron.—A gentleman, who
travelled through Connecticut, informed us
that he had seen a noble woman, who told him
that she had the satisfaction of seeing her sons and eleven grandsons to Boston, when
she heard of the engagement between the provincials and regulars. The gentleman asked her if she did not fear a tear at parting with them, with more pleasure?"

"But suppose," said the gentleman, "they had all been killed?" "I had rather," said
the noble matron, "this had been the case,
than that of them had come back a coward."

The saying of CORNELIA, the mother of the Grecian, that her children were her jewels, has been proverbial for many ages; but the spirit of the Connecticut matron is not her far. It has more the tone of the Greek matron, who told her son to come back from battle, either with his shield, or laid.

The name of the revolutionary mother ought,
if possible, to be recovered.

LISLE SAYER.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, under date of May 25th, telegraphs as follows:

"On Sunday last the State and Union, of which John H. Sayer is proprietor, copied from the Madison (Wisconsin) Advertiser, published by Mr. Carpenter, a card, signed by Benton Brown, charging Hon. John F. Potter, of Wisconsin, with having before the certain negro, who was arrested as a vagrant, the sum of $1,000, with interest, and fine and costs, to be paid to the negro, and the negro to be set at liberty."

But suppose," said the gentleman, "they
had all been killed?" "I had rather," said
the noble matron, "this had been the case,
than that of them had come back a coward."

INCENDIARISM.—The fire in the Star-Boat
office, Wednesday evening, was the work of design. The office was closed at 6 o'clock, all hands leaving it for the day. The fire
was discovered, shortly after 9 o'clock,
in the office; a number of tables, cases,
etc., having been piled together and set on fire. The flames made rapid headway, and but that Eugene Company No. 1 was close at hand, and had plenty of water in the cistern
under their house, the fire might have burned a session. Just before the fire was discovered it was in full blast, and was adjourned
until the following day. The fire was extinguished when it was discovered, but with this exception, it was in full blast for a session.

Mr. President, the delegates of this State were instructed to cast their votes for the nomination of William H. Seward. It was evident that Mr. Seward's nomination was fully secured, and he was accordingly
forwarded. But we were anxious to look up to him as the intellectual head of the political anti-slavery movement. From him
we received our first intimation of the resolution of the convention, and with this
we were satisfied, and the public were disappointed, at witnessing the decisive trial
of speed between the two trotting celebrities
of the meet. The little bay may have won two heats and the others, but the others were even more brilliant, and the trotters, the intellect being not at all cleared by the lusty cheers with which they were greeted. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and every effort is being made to discover the author of
this outrageous trick."

Flora Temple Matched against George M.
Patchen.

From the New York Herald, May 23.

The excitement in sporting circles, between the two most interesting matches between George M. Patchen and the young matron, is now at a dead heat.

David A. Bokke was sure naval officer; William
V. Brady, postmaster; William H. Leroy,
new agent; Hiram Fuller, naval storekeeper; John C. Jones, postmaster, and a man who was appointed for United States
marshal, whom you know I cannot name.

And yet, while you had lost every
dollar I possessed in starting the Galway line
of steamers, I had to bear the loss, and your
offer was made me of assistance or place.

Subsequently, it was understood by my
friends that I should be the candidate of our
party for governor, and your cousin was
given the nomination of treasurer, and your
friends nominated that trim, little
villain, Raymond, for lieutenant governor,
who was of no advantage to our party, and a man whom we know is to detect.

In all previous places I have labored in a place
you the citizens of the State have been
divided between yourself and Wood.

I have now to say that any support you
may hereafter receive from me will be because
it is necessary for the party, but not from personal consideration.

HORACE GREELEY.

A NOBLE MATRON.—The "Diary of
the American Revolution," by FRANK
MOORE, gives the following relation concerning the period of the Revolution:

"A Noble Matron.—A gentleman, who
travelled through Connecticut, informed us
that he had seen a noble woman, who told him
that she had the satisfaction of seeing her
sons and eleven grandsons to Boston, when
she heard of the engagement between
the provincials and regulars. The gentleman
asked her if she did not fear a tear at parting with them, with more pleasure?"

"But suppose," said the gentleman, "they
had all been killed?" "I had rather," said
the noble matron, "this had been the case,
than that of them had come back a coward."

INCENDIARISM.—The fire in the Star-Boat
office, Wednesday evening, was the work of
design. The office was closed at 6 o'clock,
all hands leaving it for the day. The fire
was discovered, shortly after 9 o'clock,
in the office; a number of tables, cases,
etc., having been piled together and set on
fire. The flames made rapid headway,
and but that Eugene Company No. 1 was close at
hand, and had plenty of water in the cistern
under their house, the fire might have
burned a session. Just before the fire was discovered it was in full blast, and was adjourned
until the following day. The fire was extinguished
when it was discovered, but with this
exception, it was in full blast for a session.

Mr. President, the delegates of this State
were instructed to cast their votes for the nomination of William H. Seward. It was evident that Mr. Seward's nomination was fully secured, and he was accordingly
forwarded. But we were anxious to look up
to him as the intellectual head of the political anti-slavery movement. From him
we received our first intimation of the resolution of the convention, and with this
we were satisfied, and the public were
disappointed, at witnessing the decisive trial
of speed between the two trotting celebrities
of the meet. The little bay may have won two heats
and the others, but the others were even
more brilliant, and the trotters, the intellect being not at all cleared by the lusty cheers with which they were greeted. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and every effort is being made to discover the author of
this outrageous trick."

Flora Temple Matched against George M.
Patchen.

From the New York Herald, May 23.

The excitement in sporting circles, between the two most interesting matches
between George M. Patchen and the young matron, is now at a dead heat.

David A. Bokke was sure naval officer; William
V. Brady, postmaster; William H. Leroy,
new agent; Hiram Fuller, naval storekeeper; John C. Jones, postmaster, and a man who was appointed for United States
marshal, whom you know I cannot name.

And yet, while you had lost every
dollar I possessed in starting the Galway line
of steamers, I had to bear the loss, and your
offer was made me of assistance or place.

Subsequently, it was understood by my
friends that I should be the candidate of our
party for governor, and your cousin was
given the nomination of treasurer, and your
friends nominated that trim, little
villain, Raymond, for lieutenant governor,
who was of no advantage to our party, and a man whom we know is to detect.

In all previous places I have labored in a place
you the citizens of the State have been
divided between yourself and Wood.

I have now to say that any support you
may hereafter receive from me will be because
it is necessary for the party, but not from personal consideration.

HORACE GREELEY.

A NOBLE MATRON.—The "Diary of
the American Revolution," by FRANK
MOORE, gives the following relation concerning the period of the Revolution:

"A Noble Matron.—A gentleman, who
travelled through Connecticut, informed us
that he had seen a noble woman, who told him
that she had the satisfaction of seeing her
sons and eleven grandsons to Boston, when
she heard of the engagement between
the provincials and regulars. The gentleman
asked her if she did not fear a tear at parting with them, with more pleasure?"

"But suppose," said the gentleman, "they
had all been killed?" "I had rather," said
the noble matron, "this had been the case,
than that of them had come back a coward."

INCENDIARISM.—The fire in the Star-Boat
office, Wednesday evening, was the work of
design. The office was closed at 6 o'clock,
all hands leaving it for the day. The fire
was discovered, shortly after 9 o'clock,
in the office; a number of tables, cases,
etc., having been piled together and set on
fire. The flames made rapid headway,
and but that Eugene Company No. 1 was close at
hand, and had plenty of water in the cistern
under their house, the fire might have
burned a session. Just before the fire was discovered it was in full blast, and was adjourned
until the following day. The fire was extinguished
when it was discovered, but with this
exception, it was in full blast for a session.

Mr. President, the delegates of this State
were instructed to cast their votes for the nomination of William H. Seward. It was evident that Mr. Seward's nomination was fully secured, and he was accordingly
forwarded. But we were anxious to look up
to him as the intellectual head of the political anti-slavery movement. From him
we received our first intimation of the resolution of the convention, and with this
we were satisfied, and the public were
disappointed, at witnessing the decisive trial
of speed between the two trotting celebrities
of the meet. The little bay may have won two heats
and the others, but the others were even
more brilliant, and the trotters, the intellect being not at all cleared by the lusty cheers with which they were greeted. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and every effort is being made to discover the author of
this outrageous trick."

Flora Temple Matched against George M.
Patchen.

From the New York Herald, May 23.

The excitement in sporting circles, between the two most interesting matches
between George M. Patchen and the young matron, is now at a dead heat.

David A. Bokke was sure naval officer; William
V. Brady, postmaster; William H. Leroy,
new agent; Hiram Fuller, naval storekeeper; John C. Jones, postmaster, and a man who was appointed for United States
marshal, whom you know I cannot name.

And yet, while you had lost every
dollar I possessed in starting the Galway line
of steamers, I had to bear the loss, and your
offer was made me of assistance or place.

Subsequently, it was understood by my
friends that I should be the candidate of our
party for governor, and your cousin was
given the nomination of treasurer, and your
friends nominated that trim, little
villain, Raymond, for lieutenant governor,
who was of no advantage to our party, and a man whom we know is to detect.

In all previous places I have labored in a place
you the citizens of the State have been
divided between yourself and Wood.

I have now to say that any support you
may hereafter receive from me will be because
it is necessary for the party, but not from personal consideration.

HORACE GREELEY.

A NOBLE MATRON.—The "Diary of
the American Revolution," by FRANK
MOORE, gives the following relation concerning the period of the Revolution:

"A Noble Matron.—A gentleman, who
travelled through Connecticut, informed us
that he had seen a noble woman, who told him
that she had the satisfaction of seeing her
sons and eleven grandsons to Boston, when
she heard of the engagement between
the provincials and regulars. The gentleman
asked her if she did not fear a tear at parting with them, with more pleasure?"

"But suppose," said the gentleman, "they
had all been killed?" "I had rather," said
the noble matron, "this had been the case,
than that of them had come back a coward."

INCENDIARISM.—The fire in the Star-Boat
office, Wednesday evening, was the work of
design. The office was closed at 6 o'clock,
all hands leaving it for the day. The fire
was discovered, shortly after 9 o'clock,
in the office; a number of tables, cases,
etc., having been piled together and set on
fire. The flames made rapid headway,
and but that Eugene Company No. 1 was close at
hand, and had plenty of water in the cistern
under their house, the fire might have burned a session. Just before the fire was discovered it was in full blast, and was adjourned
until the following day. The fire was extinguished
when it was discovered, but with this
exception, it was in full blast for a session.

Mr. President, the delegates of this State
were instructed to cast their votes for the nomination of William H. Seward. It was evident that Mr. Seward's nomination was fully secured, and he was accordingly
forwarded. But we were anxious to look up
to him as the intellectual head of the political anti-slavery movement. From him
we received our first intimation of the resolution of the convention, and with this
we were satisfied, and the public were
disappointed, at witnessing the decisive trial
of speed between the two trotting celebrities
of the meet. The little bay may have won two heats
and the others, but the others were even
more brilliant, and the trotters, the intellect being not at all cleared by the lusty cheers with which they were greeted. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police, and every effort is being made to discover the author of
this outrageous trick."

Flora Temple Matched against George M.
Patchen.

From the New York Herald, May 23.

The excitement in sporting circles, between the two most interesting matches
between George M. Patchen and the young matron, is now at a dead heat.

David A. Bokke was sure naval officer; William

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1860.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

HANIBAL HAMLIN,

OF MAINE.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

AT LARGE:

WALTER D. MCINNIS, OF MARSHALL,

MARSHALL, BIFORD, OF WISCONSIN.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

W. M. FAIRCHILD, OF Racine.

SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

J. ALLEN BARRETT, OF Green.

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

M. LINDEMANN, OF Jefferson.

A Reliable Journal.

The crowd that filled Albany Hall to overflowing, on Wednesday night, can form a very accurate opinion of the veracity and reliability of the Newspaper, by reading its account of the meeting, in its yesterday's issue. The Newspaper begins by pronouncing it "the first grand fizzle of the campaign," and declaims that after all the "great preparations" to secure a large attendance, the hall was only "tolerably well filled with Republicans and a large number of Democrats." The meeting, according to the same authority, looked "very disconsolate and gloomy; there was no 'confidence'; the speeches were a mere re-echo of last fall's campaign talk," and the resolutions "devoid in the main part" in a victory upon Stewart and saying as little possible about the Republican candidate." Now the reader will contrast the above assertions with the facts in the case, he will be prepared to do full justice to the Newspaper for fiction. But what object our neighbor expects to accomplish by publishing such absurd and palpable inventions, is more than we can guess.

A Regal Republican.

An anonymous correspondent of the Newspaper, who failed signs himself "Republican," protests against the nomination of JOHN F. POTTER, as being "in opposition to all precedent and against the wishes of a large portion of the Republican voters in this district," and indignantly demands that a regular convention be called to decide upon the matter. If the Newspaper correspondent had been at Albany Hall, Wednesday night, and noticed the manifestations of popular sentiment whenever the name of JOHN F. POTTER was mentioned, he would be a wiser, if a madder man. There can be no doubt that the Republicans of this district in mass, and a large number of the Democrats, have already decided that JOHN F. POTTER shall be our next Representative in Congress.

"A Scandalous Fit to be Made."

The Albany Evening Journal, after reciting the canons and agencies which led to the defeat of Mr. Seward, closes its remarks in this wise: "But we have dwelt longer than was intended upon the sombre picture which presents both features and brighter aspects." Neither Mr. LINCOLN, nor his immediate friends are in any way responsible for the injustice of which we complain. His name was legitimately presented, and his nomination was honorably secured. It was the only name upon which the elements of opposition to Gov. Seward could have been united. And this is a fortunate circumstance, for it is the name of a true man, and his nomination is to be made."

"Disappointment, however severe, does not release Republicans from their obligations to the cause of the country. These obligations are superior to all merely personal considerations. We cannot afford, either by defection or inaction, to leave the Government in the hands of a party that for eight years outraged and violated all its principles and now stands exposed to the world utterly and alike tyrannical, perfidious and iniquitous."

"We have, in LINCOLN and HAMILIN, men with clear heads and true hearts. They are capable and honest. We can support them as cheerfully, and will support them as zealously, as we should have supported the candidates whom New York would have delighted to honor."

"National" Parties.

Some of our Democratic brethren have been greatly exercised by the fact that the "National" was struck out of the resolutions adopted by the Republican Convention at Chicago. This they hold to be indisputable proof that the Republican party was a "sectional" one. We therefore command, to their attention, the following paragraph from a leading Democratic journal:

At the Charlotte Convention, the majority and minority were at variance in their action. One of the alterations in the report of the Convention, which was adopted by the word "Democracy," instead of "the National Democratic party," was to be voted down.

The amendment, in both cases, was a pro- pose. There are but two parties in the country—"Republican" and "Democratic." The prefix of "National" to either is simply superfluous.

RATIFICATION MEETING AT WASHINGTON.

The Republican Ratification Meeting in front of the City Hall on Monday evening, was largely attended by persons of all parties. Speeches were made by Major R. B. Fassett, Senator Douglass, Wade and Wilcox, and Representatives Graw, of Pa., Bissell, of Ohio, and SPAULDING and McKNIE, of N. Y. The intervals were enlivened with instrumental music. All the speakers were enthusiastic in their predictions of the election of LINCOLN and HAMILIN, the only question being their majorities. The resolutions ratified the Chicago nominations, expressed patriotism embracing the whole Union, approved of the platform, and asserted that the Republican party would, under all circumstances, bow to the majesty of law and adhere to all constitutional requirements.

Lincoln and HAMILIN.—The candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency is a peerless son of the South. A writer to the mother that bore him has written: "He is a man of great talents, and of the world's 50 years old. He was a plough-boy, and emigrated to Illinois at the age of 21, where he became a successful lawyer, and a man of great influence, and undeniably for the country, the most distinguished and scathing political leader of the day."

The amiable temper which pervades the above paragraph, is characteristic of the "fire-eaters." It is to be hoped that the editor of the Angus Dispatch may live long enough to bear from the North, next November, to see ABRAHAM LINCOLN installed in the Presidential's office, in obedience to the will of the People. The Kentucky "plough boy" is bound to make a straight turn to the White House.

A VETERAN REPUBLICAN.—Edw' COLES, of Philadelphia, a man of advanced years, who was private Secretary to JEFFERSON and MADISON, sent word to the Republican Ratification Meeting that he should support ABRAHAM LINCOLN. He said he imbibed his Democracy directly from JEFFERSON, and should be true to its principles by supporting the Chicago nominations.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.—The following gentlemen have been elected officers of the State Reform School at Waukesha: President, CECERO COMSTOCK, of Milwaukee; Vice President, ISAAC LACE, of Waukesha; Secretary, ANDREW T. DOWMOR, of Mukwonago; Treasurer, T. C. DOWMOR, of North Prairie.

THE SENTINEL.—The following have been elected officers of the State Reform School at Waukesha: President, CECERO COMSTOCK, of Milwaukee; Vice President, ISAAC LACE, of Waukesha; Secretary, ANDREW T. DOWMOR, of Mukwonago; Treasurer, T. C. DOWMOR, of North Prairie.

THE SENTINEL.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Waite's Letter.—May 30.—8 P. M.
The disappearance of the two branches of Congress on the Home-stead Bill is now under consideration of a Joint Committee, consisting of Senator Johnson, Senator Johnson of Ark., and Senator Harlan, Representatives Grow, Thomas, and Lovell.

—

Many copies of Senator Benjamin's speech, in reference to Senator Douglass, have already been submitted to the State friends, and the bill is now in the hands of the Senate.

The present status of Liberty, by Crawford, was today removed from the office of Representatives to the office of the Clerk of the House, who has been directed by the government to produce it from this mode, for the ornamentation of the Capital dome.

It is proposed to have, on the 4th of July, an independent election in Philadelphia, by the President.

The present Washington correspondent says: Mr. Wilson of Ohio, before the Cleveland Committee to-day, said that he carried a message from the late President to Mr. Brown, from the友人 of England, a few days before the passage of the English bill, to the effect that he (Mr. C.) supported that measure, it would place him in a high position of favor with the administration.

Out a small sum, Mr. Brown considered was due to him for his services.

Mr. Brown, of Franklin, Mr. Cox voted for the bill, and Mr. Miller, who had been returned from the Postoffice at Cincinnati because Cox had been elected, was required to resign his office of Postmaster, to the administration exerted in his interest to promote the election of Mr. Cox to Congress, and he could not have been returned with that intent.

Mr. Wilson stated that he had been chief Postmaster, and was a son of Sam M. May. He was also a confidential agent of the administration to Milwaukee, to aid in arresting Walker's filibustering expedition, the report of which had never published.

Horatio C. Catherwood, N. Y., May 31.—2 P. M.

A formal press-over in this place about 4 o'clock yesterday, M. M., sweeping everything before it, describing all the doings and moving the parts of the railroad entirely down. Four persons were dangerously injured and several slightly. The amount of damage is not known but it will probably exceed $20,000.

The storm passed about three miles from here, killing a man by the name of Burrows and dangerous injurying two or three others. Almost every building in marsh of the state was injured.

Anniversary of the American Tract Society, Boston, May 31.—8 P. M.

The 46th Anniversary of the American Tract Society was observed last evening at the home of Ex-Governor Bright, President, in the Chancery.

Expenditure of the year, $66,600; receipts from the U. S. $66,000.

The meeting was harmonious, and the prospects of the Society are very flattering.

Democratic Convention in Mississippi, Jackson, Miss., May 30.

The largest Democratic State Convention ever assembled before this State, met to-day. The greatest enthusiasm was displayed, and resolutions were adopted in favor of the maintenance of the Mississippi delegation to the National Convention.

The delegate will be fully accredited to Richmond and Baltimore.

Stamps Burned.—St. Louis, May 31.—3 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

House Mr. Reynolds, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported back with amendments the Senate bill providing for the return of the captured Africans. There were now 1,400 men at Key West. The report requested will be passed at the earliest practical day.

The co-operation of the Senate, and the House, will be fully accredited to Richmond and Baltimore.

Stamps Burned.—St. Louis, May 31.—3 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,000 two years ago. Insured for $20,000.

Everett accepts the Vice Presidency.

Boston, May 31.—3 P. M.

At the Union, Katharine Meeting will be held in Faneuil Hall, a letter will be read from Hon. Edward Everett, accepting the nomination of Vice President.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Constituents.

Washington, May 31.—10 P. M.

The steamer Parrot was burned at the lower N. W. corner on the 27th. She cost $2,00